Towards Generalized VAT-style Class-independent Unsupervised Fuzzy Clustering for Big Data

Arash Abadpour

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English. Brand new Book. It is a prerequisite to many applications in different fields to separate a set of data items into homogenous clusters. In this context, a data item may be a member of  $\mathcal{R}^k$  or a complex mathematical entity encompassing several properties. Homogeneity, too, is a general concept which is defined differently in different contexts. In effect, the ability to work with abstract models for data items...
